of the European Union

Apprenticeship for the Development of Design Thinking
Programme Erasmus Plus
Strategic partnerships in the field of vocational training
2020-1-RO01-KA202-079926

The aim of ADDET is to develop the employability and problem solving skills and competences of VET students.

For that aim, the project will develop an apprenticeship model for students in upper secondary and higher VET schools, based on the design thinking methodology as well as problem-based learning.

Specific objectives

- To develop problem solving competences and design thinking mindset for upper secondary and higher VET students through an apprenticeship model - To develop problem based learning through an apprenticeship model that will follow a design thinking methodology
- To support VET trainers by developing a trainers' guide addressed to trainers in VET schools and companies that will apply the apprenticeship model and will design, support and evaluate the apprenticeship programme.
- To create VET-company partnerships, experiment and validate the apprenticeship model
- To spread the idea of problem-based learning in apprenticeship by organizing seminars for trainers in VET schools and companies that are interested to apply the apprenticeship model.

INTELLECTUAL PRODUCTS

IO1. Apprenticeship model for the acquisition of problem solving competencies and design thinking mindset.

Because the launch meeting of the project in Braila, Romania, could not be organized according to the initial planning due to the health situation, it was rescheduled between March 30-31, 2022. The meeting will last 1 day and a half and two representatives of the applicant and one representative from each partner will participate in this activity. During the meeting, CEIG will give an overview of the project, by presenting the administrative and financial rules. Project management, dissemination and evaluation plans will be presented and finalized by all partners. During the meeting, all partners will make a brief presentation of the activities for which they are responsible.

The results of the activities carried out so far will be discussed.

IMPORTANT

The city of Brăila, the county capital, is located in southeastern Romania, on the Danube River, 170 km from its mouth and is the second largest port in the country.

It is 250 km from the nearest airport, Otopeni Bucharest.

The road from the airport to the city can be done by train and bus, but I recommend the bus.

If I know the arrival time of the aircraft I can make your reservations in advance. Now I give you the site and the transport schedule for the transfer from the airport at this time (cost 40 euros).
